What do you need to learn before attending the course?

If you have attended a day skipper theory course or hold knowledge to the same level but are a little rusty it would be advisable to refresh and familiarise yourself with its content.

If you are unfamiliar with the theory at this level the day skipper theory course is strongly recommended, as the advanced powerboat course assumes candidates have theory knowledge to this level along with boat handling experience to an equivalent level of the RYA intermediate powerboat certificate.
